TWO INSULS ARE CHARGED WITH LARCENY

Extradition of Former Head of Vast Public Utility Companies Sought

MOVED TO PARIS WHEN HOLDINGS COLLAPSED

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 (AP).—Samuel Insull, seventy-two-year-old public utility ruler until his realm crumbled during the depression, was indicted today with his brother, Martin, on charges of embezzlement and larceny. The collapse of the Insull holding companies caused losses of many millions.

The indictments were based on charges funds were abstracted from two financing companies in the Insull utility system and used to support a marginal stock market account maintained by Martin Insull. Samuel Insull was alleged in the indictments to have had knowledge of the withdrawals and to have endorsed a cheque for part of the abstraction. The total of funds alleged diverted was $514,942.74.

EXTRADITION SOUGHT
Capitulations were issued immediately for the arrest of the two brothers. Action was started to extradite Samuel Insull from Paris, where he has been since shortly after the financing machinery for his holdings collapsed, and Martin Insull from Orilla, Ont.

"We have only scratched the surface," said State Attorney John A. Swanson after the indictments were returned. "Our investigations so far have convinced me a much more serious case will be built up eventually against the Insulls."

Records of others of the many Insull companies—extension of which practically from coast to coast, and into Canada, made the name "Insull" a household word in thousands of homes—were being investigated by a staff of Federal authorities—part of them sent from Washington for the inquiry.

PLANS TO RETURN
PARIS, Oct. 4 (AP).—Samuel Insull, former public utilities magnate of Chicago, declined today to discuss the action of the Cook County grand jury which returned true bills charging him and his brother with embezzlement and larceny.

He intends to return to the United States in November, he said.

NEW DOMINION RELIEF POLICY

Province Halts Action Pending
Fresh Announcement
From Ottawa

Notified from Ottawa that the Dominion Government is at work on an entirely new programme of relief for the Western Provinces, the Provincial Government yesterday called a halt to its own efforts in drafting plans for the Fall and Winter months, and will wait for the text of the Federal announcement, which is anticipated shortly.

Hope was expressed that the new Federal plan would contain some of the changes suggested by the Western conferences on unemployment relief, held at Edmonton and elsewhere in the West this summer; particularly in regard to a higher percentage of municipal costs to be borne by the Dominion Government.

Until it hears from Ottawa on the new proposals, the British Columbia Government will not proceed with its plans to create a Provincial relief board, under a director and supervisors for the unorganized and municipal territories. Similarly, any consideration of a Provincial budgeting of relief costs must be stayed, until it is finally ascertained what the Dominion Government proposes to do in the matter.

FARM PICKETER SHOT TO DEATH

CANBY, Minn., Oct. 4 (AP).—Nordahl Peterson, twenty-five, farmer near here, was shot and killed tonight by unidentified assailants in an automobile as he stood with several other persons near a farm picket station about one mile west of here.

Fred Hacker, another picketer, was shot at a few minutes earlier at another picket station, but escaped uninjured.

Authorities said Peterson and three other picketers, while in a tent alongside the highway, were aroused by shots from a passing car. As Peterson stepped from the tent, the machine circled back and several more shots were fired, one bullet striking him in the chest. The car then sped away.

Income From Wheat Crop Shows Big Increase Over Last Year

TORONTO, Oct. 4 (CP).—Financial returns for the wheat yield up to this date are estimated as $10,000,000 higher than at this time last year by the October commercial letter of the Canadian Bank of Commerce issued today. The letter further points out this increase has had a widespread business effect.

The letter finds constructive elements in world economy quite apparent and a marked seasonal increase in Canadian business.

Cheer is found in "two outstanding features in September; first a check placed on the decline in employment, and secondly a sharp rise in railway freight traffic."

Confidence Games On Increase Says B.C. Police Head

British Columbia Force Faced Difficult Task With Conspicuous Merit During Year, Col.
J. H. McMullin Reports

"CONFIDENCE games" are on the increase in British Columbia, and but for the timely intervention of the Provincial Police thousands of dollars would have slid into the pockets of their suave operators in 1931, over and above what was lost in that fashion, Colonel J. H. McMullin, Commissioner of the Provincial Police, comments in his annual report to Attorney-General Pooley, now printed. Ease with which seemingly astute business men have been tricked out of sums ranging from $1,000 to $50,000 has featured such cases of the nature as have come to the attention of the authorities.

CALICOTTE STORY IS STRENGTHENED

Detectives on New Search in Connection With Day Bombing Outrages

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 4 (AP).—Detectives investigating Paul Calicotte's self-alleged complicity in the 1916 preparedness day bombing in San Francisco, found themselves involved in a new angle today that sent them on a search for an unidentified man.

Calicotte, Portland mountain climber, who has declared he unwittingly carried the explosive-laden suitcase to the spot where the blast killed ten persons, is held in jail as a fugitive from California.

The new turn was brought about by the statement of Bernhard Johnson, of Portland, who told police that late in 1916 he met a man in Anchorage, Alaska, who said he was responsible for the San Francisco bombing and that a sixteen-year-old youth was hired to carry the bomb-laden suitcase across San Francisco Bay. Calicotte was about sixteen at that time.

Thomas Mooney and Warren K. Billings are serving life terms for the San Francisco bombing. Both have always contended they were wrongfully convicted.

President Asserts Democratic Platform Would

SUGGESTS PLAN FOR AGRICULTURAL RELIEF

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 4 (AP).—President Herbert Hoover tonight declared sponsorship for a dozen policies for the relief of unemployment by the Agricultural Marketing Act, re-adjustment of land taxes, reorganization of the Federal Land banks, and the application of any annual payment on war debts to "secure a permanent end of recovery."

In his first campaign address since accepting nomination as Republican nominee for President, the chief executive said he favored such proposals as radical revision of the Agricultural Marketing Act, re-adjustment of land taxes, reorganization of the Federal Land banks, and the application of any annual payment on war debts to "secure a permanent end of recovery."

As another major point he proposed that the government should

VIEWS DIFFER ON AGREEMENTS

Ottawa Treaties Are Commended and Condemned
in Great Britain

LONDON, Oct. 4 (CP).—Results of the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference were described variously as substantially advancing Empire economic co-operation, and as "preposterous." At two meetings in the United Kingdom today, the Central and Associated Chamber of Agriculture meeting in London unanimously passed a resolution welcoming the conference as bringing a "substantial advance towards a policy of Empire economic co-operation and agricultural development." At the same time Sir Herbert Samuel, former Liberal Home Secretary, who resigned recently from the National Government, said in a speech at Darwen the agreements were "preposterous."

EFFECT ON COTTON TRADE

Sir Herbert maintained when the agreements are published, it will be found neither in India nor in the Dominions will the cotton trade of the United Kingdom receive any appreciable concessions. He denounced also the proposal to impose a heavy duty on cod liver oil from Norway in order to divert part of the trade in this commodity to Newfoundland. He asked his audience how anyone should dare to propose this "enormous duty" on a medicine "essential to the life and health of a vast number of children in the poorest homes."

The agricultural chambers, however, expressed satisfaction the agreements at Ottawa recognized the principle that agriculture in the United Kingdom should have a prior claim to the home markets.

Consideration Is Given to Basis Of Railway Deal

WHILE no comment was offered by the Government, the basis of what British Columbia would consider a satisfactory in regard to a sale of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is believed to have been before the Cabinet for consideration during the last two days. National Unemployment Insurance Scheme Urged by Provincial Ass'n

REDUCTION IN HOURS OF WORK PROPOSED

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4 (CP).—The Liberal Association of British Columbia pledged itself tonight to urge upon the Dominion Government to bring into effect a national unemployment insurance scheme at the earliest possible date, and expressed its belief that a thorough inquiry should be made by the Provincial Department of Labor into the possibility and desirability of introducing a shorter work day and shorter work week in business and industry in British Columbia.

The convention expressed satisfaction at the declaration of the Federal parties agreeing to the need of national contributory unemployment insurance. It did so recognizing that the problem of unemployment could only be adjusted by the application of many measures over a period of time.

OBEYS DECREE OF EXPULSION

Papal Delegate to Mexico
Classed as "Pernicious Foreigner" by President

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 4 (AP).—Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz Y Flores, papal delegate to Mexico, boarded an airplane today and started for the United States border in obedience to a presidential decree expelling him from the country on the ground he was a "pernicious foreigner."

With the Pope's representative went two agents of the Department of Interior and Carlos Cortes, a relative.

The archbishop remarked only that it was the first time he ever had been in an airplane. It was understood his route lay via San Luis Potosi, and that the border would be crossed at Laredo or Brownsville.

The expulsion order was issued by the President after the archbishop's refusal to conform to a resolution adopted by the Chamber of Deputies.

IS REPERCUSSION
The expulsion of Archbishop Ruiz Flores is a repercussion from the controversy over last week's papal encyclical on the Mexican religious problem.

The archbishop publicly interpreted that document as directing the clergy and the people not to rise up in arms against what the church looks upon as persecution, and he denied that the encyclical incited the Mexican clergy to disobey the law.

A contrary view of the Pope's message was expressed in the resolution of the Chamber of Deputies adopted last night.

WITHHOLD COMMENT

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 4 (AP).—Church officials withheld official comment tonight on the expulsion from Mexico of Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz Y Flores pending confirmation from their own sources but unofficially the opinion was voiced in high Vatican circles that Mexico's action would result in a quick reply.

The Vatican state department did official advice probably would arrive during the night and that a definite statement of the church's stand might be available tomorrow.

Hundred Thousand Acres in Western Oregon Covered
by Raging Fire

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 4.—Destruction, symbolized by writhing red flames and greenish smoke, spread over Western Oregon forest lands today.

Damage was estimated at several million dollars as forest fires lashed through several logging communities after burning through vast stands of green timber. Forestry officials estimated nearly 100,000 acres of timber and brush lands were covered by raging flames, the fire pits ranging from the Columbia River to Curry County, bordering on the California line.

ONE LIFE LOST

The only consoling factor was that, despite the tremendous property damage, only one life was lost.

Two hundred persons fled the community of Cochrane before blasting flames obliterated the place, leaving only glowing coals where the Washington County timber town had stood.

At Weyth, west of Hood River, fire engulfed the postoffice, a store and service station and several houses burned.

Nearly 200 men battled furiously with ravaging flames which threatened the mill town of Wendling in Lane County. By only the beat of fortune, they said, could the town be saved. Villagers were evacuating the place late today. Flames in seething, roaring walls, all but encompassed the town, only the west entrance remaining open.

ON WIDE FRONT

From ten to fifteen farm houses in the Gates Creek country, of Washington County, were destroyed by fire, and that blaze was spreading on a wide front after sweeping 35,000 acres.

Across the Columbia River, in Washington, Vancouver and Longview reported increasing menace as fires licked savagely through brush and forest, claiming farm houses in their path.

The situation was described by officials as being perhaps the worst in the history of Oregon forestry.

Man Rescued From Frail Raft at Sea

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Oct. 4.—With a pair of suitcases and a can of food was aboard Rex Parrot, of Craig, former theatre organist here, was picked up yesterday in the middle of Clarence Strait on a frail raft. His boat had been wrecked Thursday.

He had eaten only mussels since then and had had no fire. He made a raft at the scene of the wreck and set out for Ketchikan, paddling and drifting with the tide near shore and then beaching his raft until the next tide. He had covered only a small part of the distance to Ketchikan when he was rescued.

Hunger and Hardship Lot Of Spanish Aristocrats

CADIZ, Spain, Oct. 4 (AP).—A story of how hunger, suffering and humiliations were the lot of the flower of the old Spanish aristocracy—the 138 noblemen, army officers and their families exiled to Africa by the republic—was told today when their exile ship returned.

Officers of the Espasa V, the ship which took the participants in the recent monarchist uprising to Villa Cisneros, the lonely garrison down on the West African Coast, reported terrible storms during the first few days of the voyage. Nearly everyone was seasick, they said.

The deportees maintained little observance of rank and title, the

Provincial Officer Shot Down

Near Lillooet

ALLEGED KILLER IS SHARPSHOOTER

Police posse, ranchers and miners are searching the hills in the Lillooet district for Frank Gott, halfbreed trapper, guide and sharpshooter, wanted for the killing of Provincial Game Warden A. E. Farey, who was shot down in cold blood early yesterday morning.

Gott, aged seventy-six, is known to be an exceptional shot and distinguished himself in the war as a sharpshooter, it is said. A man of strength and rugged, despite his advanced years, he knows every foot of the district, which offers exceptional opportunities for concealment, and it is not expected that he will be easily captured.

SHOT IN BACK

Word received by Colonel J. H. McMullin, superintendent of British Columbia Police, yesterday, was to the effect that the game officer was shot down deliberately as he was examining the skin of a deer which Gott had in his possession. The game constable had no chance to fight it out with the old halfbreed, but was slain in the back as he stooped over to examine the skin of a fawn or doe.

The killing was witnessed by two persons, Thomas Dalton, a hunter from Vancouver, and a youth who was with him, police were informed. Dalton brought the news of the murder to Motha, a station on the P.G.E., twenty-six miles from Lillooet, to which place word was sent by Frederick Bishop, the postmaster.

LEFT NOTE

When police arrived at the place they found a note beside the body of the murdered officer. It is said to have been written and signed by Gott, admitting the killing and saying:

LOAN TAKEN UP IN SHORT TIME

New South Wales Conversion
Issue Gives Encouragement in Australia

CANBERRA, Australia, Oct. 4 (CP).—The rapidity with which the State of New South Wales' great conversion loan was taken up in London today had a most encouraging effect on members of the Australian Government in particular and Australians generally.

The fact that the issues were only on sale a little more than half an hour before they were all taken up was accepted by Prime Minister Joseph Lyons as "unanswerable evidence of the wisdom of the Australian people in supporting the programme of the Government for rehabilitation."

EFFORTS ARE RECOGNIZED

"The result shows the sincerity of Australia's efforts to reorganize her finances was recognized abroad," said the Prime Minister, who is also treasurer.

B. B. Stevens, Premier and Treasurer of New South Wales, declared the operation augured well for the future all-Australian conversion.

There is a general feeling the newly-appointed High Commissioner to England, Mr. Bruce, played an important part in the adjusting of a difficult problem. The delicately poised difference of opinion between the Commonwealth and her London advisers concerning her position in the United Kingdom was, they consider, carefully and definitely cleared away by Mr. Bruce, and he should regard it as a great initial success.

INTEREST BURDEN REDUCED

The conversion operation, which was along the lines of the British conversion, was engineered to reduce the Government's interest burden, and it is estimated it will save the Government of New South Wales $500,000 a year. The loan offered today totaled $12,500,000. Former interest rates on this sum were 5 1/2 per cent. The nominal interest for the new issue is 3 1/2 per cent, but allowing for the premium on repayment yield will be about 4 per cent.

FINE CHURCH IN QUEBEC BURNED

LANORAIE, Que., Oct. 4 (CP).—The beautiful Roman Catholic church here, regarded as one of the finest rural churches in the province, was destroyed tonight in a blaze which for the first time threatened the entire village.

The fire was believed to have started in a yard behind the church, from which the Holy Sacrament was saved. About ten other buildings were more or less badly damaged. No one was injured.

The church, which was rebuilt in 1918, following destruction of the former building in 1917, was valued at $85,000, of which $45,000 was covered by insurance.

Province Cancels Annual Tax Sales As Relief Measure

Customary Auction of Tax Sale Lands and Crown-Granted Mineral Claims in Default Will Not Be Held, Government Announces

OF far-reaching importance to numbers of small property owners particularly in Northern parts of the province, the Government announced yesterday that it would waive its annual sale of tax sale lands and Crown granted mineral claims, as a direct measure of relief to over-burdened owners who have not been able to meet past commitments on Provincial account. The announcement was made by Hon. J. W. Jones after Cabinet action canceling plans for the annual sale, which would have occurred on October 10.

In view of the existing depression and the difficulties that confront small agriculturists, land owners and the mining industry, the Government has thought it inadvisable to carry out the sale, and after careful consideration, to hold a tax sale this year for land and Crown-granted mineral claims. The Government is most anxious to retain settlers on the land, and to give miners an opportunity to develop their properties as conditions improve, was the text of a Government statement issued announcing the decision.

granted Acting Inspector McDonald and Staff Sergeant Shiras and Robert Owens, who were made Inspector and subinspectors, respectively, last year. Inspector T. W. S. Parsons, of the Victoria and Island division of the force, Col. S. Clive and Constable Hughes, of the B.C. Police School, are mentioned for able work in this connection, in addition to other duties.

Up to December 31 last, twenty-two British Columbia municipalities had voluntarily handed over their policing to the provincial force, two additional centres taking advantage of the scheme since then, it is reported. The arrangement has proved satisfactory, and no municipality has elected to return to its former condition in regard to police matters.

OVER MILLION MILES
In the fiscal year 1930-31 departmental cars traveled a total of 1,109,721 miles, at a cost of 3.48 cents per mile, compared to 3.63 cents a mile in the year previous. This does not include depreciation.

Five motor launches, and a number of smaller boats were operated by the force during the year, doing good work, particularly in conjunction with the wireless service, which on land and water handled 5,337 messages of a more or less urgent character during the year.

So successful was the operation of the wireless short-wave chain, that it was possible, through the aid of British Columbia, secured particulars on the stations and methods used. These included inquiries by the R.C.M.P., and provincial forces in Alberta and New Brunswick.

Despite hard times and unusual problems to be faced, there was a decrease of 1,208 prosecutions, compared with the year previous; a total of 5,347 cases being reported during the year. The decrease was noticeable in offences under the Motor Vehicles Act and the Government Liquor Act.

PUBLIC WELL GUARDED
"Despite the enormous amount of unemployment, the absence of transients, and the determined efforts of agitators to incite the working men, employed and unemployed, to violence, the police have received such a measure of protection that its property has suffered to no appreciable extent even in a time when depreciation in one form or another are only to be expected. I do not wish to give the police all the credit. In these statistics is also proof of the value of the relief measures set up by the Provincial Government," Colonel Mullin comments.

A significant feature of the report is that out of six murders committed during the year, all six cases were solved by the police, these cases including those under provincial jurisdiction. Exceptionally fine work was done in several of the cases, both by active officers concerned and by the identification branch at headquarters, it is shown.

One murder case involved a chase through three provinces, and was successfully in so far as police obligation was concerned. More than 7,000 identifications were made from finger prints in accidents, Okanagan and various other reporting agencies.

MOTOR TRAFFIC INCREASED
Motor registrations in the province, it is noted, grew from 19,000 cars in 1925 to 96,400 cars in 1931; while $2,099,553 was collected last year in revenue under the Motor Vehicles Act, a decrease of only 3.45 per cent.

Of this sum, $400,061 was collected at Victoria, $881,897 at Vancouver, and $252,595 at the Western division. A total of 195 licences were suspended during the year, and seven others cancelled.

MEN DRIVERS LEAD
There was a decrease of 18.4 per cent in motor accident fatalities; ninety-two persons losing life through this cause, compared to 110 in the year previous. Persons injured numbered 2,140, a decrease of 5.8 per cent, and property damage to a value of $272,358 reported. Of drivers involved in accidents, 5,661 were male and only 373 female. Most of the accidents occurred to normal people, driving under normal conditions in broad daylight, and through carelessness, in one form or another.

Use of the police radio at Vancouver recovered a number of stolen cars, by warning outlying districts in time for the arrest of the thieves. Rigid inspection was kept upon private vehicles, common carriers and school buses.

MANIFOLD POLICE TASKS
It is not generally recognized what a provincial police has to do. In 1931 some of his duties were inspection of camps, investigation of complaints, desertions, fire reports, immigration matters, missing persons, pensions, narcotic drugs, patrols, provincial institutional cases, care of the sick and destitute, insane, courts, prisoners' escorts and many other duties, not least among which were heavy collections for the treasury.

Collections amounting to $1,686,719, exclusive of $562,068 collected through Government agencies under the Motor Vehicles Act, were made on account of that act, and the following: Amusement Tax Act, Brand Act, game licences, police court fines, poll tax, police court costs, poolroom licences, Sheep Protection Act, sheriff's fees, Trades Licence Act, Gasoline Tax Act, Fisheries Act, Vital Statistics Act, and sundry other ways.

The expenditure by the department for the year was $516,800, including traveling expenses, high by reason of unusual times and problems faced.

HIGHER TARIFFS PROMISED FARMERS BY HOOVER

laid his farm belt audience even higher tariffs than now existed on farm commodities "where necessary to protect agriculture."

Speeding up of completion of the St. Lawrence deep waterway "as a fundamental relief to agriculture through cheaper transportation," was also promised by the President as he addressed a widely cheering audience that completely filled the 10,000-seat Des Moines Coliseum and overflowed in the Shrine Temple and across the Capitol Plaza.

Then quoting directly from criticisms of the present tariff act by his Democratic opponent, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, he asserted:

"What the Democratic party proposes is to reduce your farm tariffs. Aside from ruin to agriculture, such an undertaking in the midst of this depression will disturb every possibility of recovery."

PORK BARREL LEGISLATION
Earlier, Mr. Hoover listed proposals he said were initiated in the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives "under the leadership of the gentleman who has been nominated the Democratic candidate for vice-president, and thus these measures and policies were approved by their party."

One after another, the President named "a programme of pork barrel legislation in the sum of $1,200,000,000," the bonus bill, the "creation of sheer flat money," a bill to "destroy the effectiveness of the tariff commission," and a "price-fixing bill."

UNDERMINED CONFIDENCE
"All this," he asserted, "undermined public confidence and delayed all the efforts of the administration and the powerful instrumentalities which we had placed in action to save the country."

"These measures representing the dominant Democratic control brought discouragement and delay to recovery. That recovery began the moment when it was certain that these destructive measures of the Democratic-controlled House were stopped."

ESCAPED TO BUSH
According to the meagre reports reaching Victoria of the actual affair, the game warden came upon Gott in his camp near Moha, and proceeded to examine the skin of a deer which had recently been killed.

Gott suddenly picked up his rifle and fired point blank at the officer. Dalton sprang forward and grappled with the halfbreed, wrenching the gun away from him, whereupon Gott escaped into the bush, armed with a hunting knife only. He left his camp kit.

Later he returned, it is believed, and left the note which was found and which admitted the slaying.

OUTCOME OF GRUDGE
The killing is believed to be as the result of a deep-seated grudge held by Gott against the game warden ever since Parry secured a conviction against him in 1929 for having deer meat in his possession out of season.

Parry was a veteran of the war. He was for a time after his return to Canada with the Dominion police, and for a period with the Provincial Police before being enlisted in the game department. He was a bachelor, aged fifty. He was born in England.

Gott, a sturdy halfbreed, disguised his age and enlisted in a British Columbia battalion shortly after the outbreak of war. He was then nearly sixty, but was active and an exceptionally good rifle shot. He became noted as a sniper and for days lay in advanced positions picking off German snipers. He contracted rheumatism and was invalided home, but was soon as active ever in pursuit of game in the Lilloo country. He knows every trail and every highway in the country and may be expected to keep out of sight for a long time.

provide against periods of depression. It was possible, through the Department of Labor getting industries together, to alleviate many conditions without placing anything on the statute.

The resolution was one of the most extensively discussed during the entire convention.

The convention concluded tonight with the passing of a large number of resolutions of provincial concern.

Other resolutions were passed as follows:

LAND SETTLEMENT
That lands be made available in classified areas to those expressing a desire to engage in agriculture, and for a period with the Provincial Board in British Columbia, which, since the advent of a Conservative administration at Ottawa, have been most arbitrary in their decisions as to the qualifications or entitlement of many applicants for pension.

TAXATION ADJUSTMENT
That it is desirable that the whole field of municipal taxation and revenue should be the subject of exhaustive review, to the end that an equitable adjustment shall be made as between provincial and municipal taxation and revenues within municipal areas.

"That this convention favors appointment of a public utilities commission."

Various complimentary resolutions were also passed.

A resolution recommending a careful survey of the present Workmen's Compensation Board Act was withdrawn after several speakers declared it was unwise for the convention to take a stand which might be misunderstood. Tribute was paid to the present members of the board. It was stated that Liberals should be proud of the act, that there were certain changes which it was well known should be made, and these could be left with confidence to Mr. Pattullo when he became head of the Government.

TRIBUTE TO ORGANIZER
Mr. Pattullo paid tribute to the work of Major S. F. Moodie, organizing secretary, for his work in connection with the Liberal party and the present convention.

Another resolution recommending enabling legislation be passed for the establishment of a provincial highway board with necessary powers to undertake and conclude a comprehensive survey of actual highway and road requirements, to lay down a programme of road and highway construction improvements and maintenance designed for a period of years as may be possible within the funds available for this purpose and voted by the Legislature.

NATIONAL BANKS
The establishment of a national banking system was endorsed.

The resolution of endorsement called the attention of the Canadian Parliament "to the increasing seriousness of the existing economic situation, with the suggestion that, as a means of creating and maintaining the circulation of essential purchasing power, national credit should be used in order to relieve the existing burden of taxation, unemployment in labor, industry and capital, and to assist in the prosperity of the Canadian people."

And further, "that there should be promulgated a plan of definite credit co-operation between the national, provincial and municipal governing authorities and the Canadian banking system."

POLICY ON P.E.G.E.
The convention passed a resolution stating that "whether the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is sold or retained by the Government, it is the definite policy of this party that continued operation of the railway shall be insured."

The convention spent considerable time in debate of a resolution concerning unemployment, but adjourned the discussion to tonight.

Education Offered Youths as Shelter From Depression

Children Should Not Be Allowed to Drift Aimlessly Under Present Conditions, Dean R. W. Brock, of University of B.C., Believes

SPEAKING before the Kiwanis Club yesterday, R. W. Brock, Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science and head of the Department of Geology and Geography in the University of British Columbia, corrected some ideas which he said prevailed in connection with the institution with which he is identified, and also pointed the way for action, as he saw it, for the youth of today.

The children of this generation had been put in a dreadful hole, said Dean Brock. The best that could be done for them was to give them the opportunities to continue their education in the high schools and university until they could find profitable employment.

During his address he took early opportunity to correct unfavorable references that had been made to the students of the university. There was a very small percentage of those attending who were not up to the mark. For honesty of purpose, clean living and devotion to their work, the students of the U.B.C. were a body of young people that could not be surpassed. The Province could be proud of them, and could feel that they were the best in America.

The advantages of a good university in the province was something which meant much for the Province, he said. It brought to the country those who wished their sons and daughters to have the advantages of a first class education.

CORRECTS MISTAKES
"The idea is prevalent that British Columbia spends much more on education than other provinces,"

LESLIE JEWELL IS NOT GUILTY

Former Manager of Brokerage Firm Freed of Theft by Assize Jury

H. Leslie Jewell, former manager of McTavish Brothers, Victoria, Limited, a customer broker, was found not guilty of charges of theft of money from his employers by a jury at the Assize Court here late yesterday afternoon in a four-hour trial before Chief Justice Morrison.

The announcement of the verdict was greeted by vigorous applause from the galleries of the courtroom, and was quickly suppressed by the sheriff. The jury was absent from the court only eighteen minutes, returning the verdict at 5:45 p.m.

CHARGES DEFINED
The charges against Jewell were of theft of $110,774 from his employers between March 1, 1931, and April 1, 1932, and of the theft of $800,14, the property of Mrs. F. W. Maunsell, a fellow-employee, either in thought or action, toward education. It is rather behind its commercial competitors in this vital matter.

"It will be noted that the number of students at the university is much larger than in the previous years, and that the average age of the students is lower. This is due to the fact that the university is attracting a larger number of students from the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan showing less."

"It is sometimes said that the University of British Columbia is a rich man's institution. It is only in the sense that its fees are unusually high. Owing to lack of openings in the world, youths are coming to the universities that would normally stop their education at leaving high school. Last year the attendance at U.B.C. was 10 per cent. Rich men's universities showed a high percentage of students who were not able to afford to continue. U.B.C. showed a distinct loss in numbers."

REMAIN IN CANADA
"It is commonly stated that we are educating youths for the United States. This is diametrically opposite to the fact. More graduates of applied science go there than any others, some because they are Americans and some because post graduate experience in large industries or graduate schools is necessary for the higher positions in the professions, but the majority of these intend to return to British Columbia. Even so, less than 8 per cent have gone across the line. President Tully, of Alberta University, stated that of 1,000 graduates, only 3.5 per cent had gone to the States, and these immediately after the war. Of a recent graduating class of 164, only one left for the States."

"As a matter of fact, an ambitious youth anxious to improve his position, has two alternatives: to go elsewhere or to go to the university. If he comes to the university in this province he remains a British Columbian. If he leaves the province for a university education or to better his position, the chances are all against his return. By the time he has graduated from our university, he has his roots fixed, the chances are he will remain; and even if he does go away for experience, he will, if at all possible, return."

"So the university is the one instrument, and a very perfect instrument, for preventing the export of British Columbia brains."

COMPARES WITH EAST
The speaker met the charge that the university was not doing its job, having regard to population of the province. In answer to this he gave the figures relative to the Eastern provinces of the Dominion to show that there, with less population to draw from, universities had been multiplied.

The value of a university was not for the students that attended alone. It was a benefit to the whole population of the country. Rather than close the university, the province and join in a Western institution, the speaker suggested that as this was an ideal province for a university, the suggestion might be made to have the two nearest provinces send their pupils here.

Youth was the great asset of the nation, said the speaker, who proceeded to make an appeal for the youth of today who found themselves in a peculiar position through no fault of their own.

VICTORIAN LEGACY
The dean recalled the characteristics of the Victorian era which had developed a strong character in the race. This period had built up by economy and thrift, a powerful race. Substantial fortunes were left to their sons. A reasonably efficient government was left with the country comparatively free of debt. Firm businesses had been left and good universities established. Above all, the inheritance was left with the idea that he must look to character as above all things.

Then the war came with the piling up of debt. The generation was taught to regard colossal debts without fear. They were taught to amass debts on easy terms, and following the war, debts were incurred that made those of the war look paltry.

Now the race was being called upon to go back to the Victorian standards, and pay for what one got. The need of taking care of the rising population was pressed home by the speaker. The race lost one generation in the war. There was the danger that, if care was not taken, they might lose another generation with worse results to the nation than the penalty paid in the war.

MUST RECTIFY POSITION
While work was not available for the youth of the land, something else should be done to rectify the position of affairs. The young men should not be thrown into the world. They must be kept off the streets with the danger of becoming hoboed. In Great Britain they balanced the budget, but they increased at the same time the expenditures on education.

In the opinion of Dean Brock, the keeping of the youth in the high schools and university was preferable to throwing them on the street. At the same time, he stressed the need of every economy possible.

Finds Money in Application of Strange New Art

Y. KIMURA, a Japanese resident in Vancouver, knows what he wants in this world and is going after it.

According to J. R. Terry, Provincial poultry supervisor, Mr. Kimura called recently on the Department of Agriculture to announce that he would leave shortly for Japan to take a three-month course in the art of identifying male and female chicks at birth, successfully applied in the Orient but little known on this continent. As some hatcheries bring out a million chicks in a season, there is a commercial opening for the man who can indicate which are cockerels and which pullets at birth. Mr. Kimura will return to British Columbia after his postgraduate course in the unusual art.

partially unconscious. Mrs. Jewell, believing that her husband was against him, after he had regained his health, offered to assist Mr. Jewell to the extent of securing insurance policies over to him, she testified.

SAYS MONEY IN BANK
Mr. Jewell, in his testimony, denied he had ever stolen any money from the company with which he was employed. He knew, he said, there was some difficulty over the cheque given by Mrs. Maunsell and was prepared to take all responsibility in connection with it, as he considered the cheque had been deposited. He was not aware that it was charged with the theft of it and thought Mr. Jewell was referring to delays that had occurred. He said he took the responsibility because he was handling the case for Mrs. Maunsell, one dealing with a refund of customs duty paid on an imported automobile, but he did not then suspect that he would be charged with an offence. "So far as I know, that money is still in the Royal Bank of Canada. I did not take any money from Mr. Jewell or from the company with which I was employed," he testified.

ADmits BORROWING
Mr. Jewell admitted he had taken money from the cash register when he had received his pay cheque. In reply to a question from Mr. Finland, the accused said he did not know there was any shortage in the company funds up to the time he was stricken with illness. He also replied to another question by Mr. Finland in denial that he had admitted to Mr. Dowell he had taken money.

The following comprised the jury: F. F. Bone (foreman), N. Yates, C. A. Fields, J. W. Macdonald, J. P. Harper, Charles Dodson, H. P. June, R. M. Allan, A. Adamson, W. Kay and T. Fairhurst.

The trial of Frederick Oat, charged with arson in connection with the burning of a military hospital at Work Point Barracks, is scheduled to commence at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

MASTERS OF BRIDGE
Mr. Theodore A. Lightner, co-holder with Mr. Michael T. Gottlieb of the Masters' Gold Cup, emblematic of world supremacy in the United States, and a member of The Bridge World team of four since its organization, is everywhere recognized as one of the greatest analysts of the game. His strongest point is a perfect precision of balance in bidding, defensive play and the play of the hand. His weakest point is that his morale is apt to be slightly shaken when things break badly.

He was at one time a member of the New York Stock Exchange, and gave up that hectic career for the more peaceful pursuits of bridge. He is recognized as one of the greatest analysts of the game. His strongest point is a perfect precision of balance in bidding, defensive play and the play of the hand. His weakest point is that his morale is apt to be slightly shaken when things break badly.

A brilliant example of his keen analysis in actual play is given in the hand below, in which, with right, Gottlieb, he reached in the bidding that extremely rare declaration—a correctly bid grand slam.

I give Mr. Lightner's analysis of the bidding:

(1). A response of one in a higher-valued suit is regarded as forcing in our partnership, except when the responding hand has passed.

(2). This is the key bid to the entire hand. It enables North to tell that there is no losing trump trick for the minimum possible holding which would justify a three-heart response is:

A Q x x x or A J 10 x x x

The response at this point offers some difficulties. Many players would be tempted to bid two or three hearts, but this would be very bad, as such a bid should not be made with a singleton in partner's suit. (Possible exception: Singleton queen, King or ace.)

LOTTERY CHARGE OUSTED BY JURY

E. A. Morris, Ltd., Found Not Guilty of Operating Scheme for Disposal of Property

Finding that the free coupons which gave the bearer a chance to win free trip to Honolulu or a cash prize of $1,000 did not constitute an offence under the lottery sections of the Criminal Code, the jury at the Assize Court here, yesterday, returned a verdict of not guilty for E. A. Morris, Ltd., tobaccoists, of Victoria and Vancouver.

The jury was absent from the courtroom twenty-five minutes, returning with the verdict shortly before the noon hour.

GAVE AWAY COUPONS
Evidence submitted during the trial was brief and was in support of the charge, the defence declining to bring evidence on behalf of the company.

Crown witnesses testified they had received printed slips, bearing numbers, which entitled the holder to a chance for a trip to Honolulu for two persons, or $1,000. The distribution of the numbered coupons was not denied by the defence, but it was maintained that there was no consideration in connection with the distribution.

NO DISTRIBUTION
In summing up before the jury, Chief Justice Morrison remarked that there had not been evidence to show that any person had received a free trip to Honolulu or had received any portion of the $1,000 prize; therefore there could not have been a distribution or division of property.

When the court resumed yesterday morning, the Chief Justice ruled against an objection raised by the defence, that the Criminal Code, which was not a part of the evidence, had not received two days' notice of an indictment as required by the Criminal Code. The Chief Justice ordered the case to go to the jury.

W. G. Moresby, K.C., conducted the case for the Crown.

ECZEMA IN BABIES CURED BY SOY BEAN
On of the distressing ailments with which babies suffer is eczema. After trying all manner of ointments, pastes and powders the anxious mother takes the youngster to the family doctor in an effort to effect a cure.

Very often the doctor is able to correct this condition by cutting down on the butter fat in the milk, using an alkaline mixture internally and a simple ointment externally. Sometimes, however, the eczema refuses to heal and even the child specialist, after spending considerable time and thought on the case, gets no result.

The experiment lasted from four to nine months.

What was the result? They report thirty-eight infants improved and two as unimproved. The skin affected by the eczema began to show marked improvement after one or two weeks under the use of the soy bean diet, and, after observation for periods varying from not less than four months up to nine months, the eczema has not returned.

The infants took the soy bean preparation readily, were free from diarrhoea or constipation, and had no digestive disturbances. The gain in weight according to the usual figures was quite satisfactory.

In the experience of the above physicians, the use of a milk-free diet, in which milk was replaced by a soy bean preparation, has proved valuable as a substantial curative diet in infants with severe eczema. Notwithstanding all that has been proven in regard to the effect of diet on skin ailments, there are still many patients and some physicians unfortunately who depend entirely on some form of ointment, paste, or powder in the treatment of eczema. SOUTH HURON'S BY-ELECTION

There can be no minimizing either the character or the significance of the result of the by-election in South Huron. It was definitely a substantial triumph for the Liberal Party, and in that respect, too, it cannot fail to be regarded as an endorsement of the leadership of Mr. Mackenzie King. A good deal will be written no doubt on the subject of the recent agreement reached by the Imperial Conference. On the other hand there was the plea made by Mr. F. G. Sanderson, M.P. (South Perth), and other Liberals who participated in the election, that the achievements of the Imperial Conference should be ignored as issues. The Liberals were divided as to the extent to which opposition to those treaties should be emphasized. It cannot be overlooked, however, that Mr. Mackenzie King, on the occasions he spoke in South Huron, opposed the treaties and made them a substantial part of the subject matter of his campaign addresses.

South Huron obviously was influenced by many considerations for the Liberal Party. Some aspects of the Imperial trade treaties must have played a part in the by-election. There are many agriculturists in the constituency, and the supposition was that they would vote for the Government candidate. On the contrary, both rural districts and townships in the main rolled up majorities for the Liberal candidate. Other influences, apart from the findings of the Imperial Conference, carried weight in the verdict. It is conceivable that the voters of South Huron are opposed to the St. Lawrence Waterway Agreement, for this is a matter, because of the expense involved and its foreign implications, that interests Canada from one end to the other. Presumably, too, the vexed question of the adequate distribution of unemployment relief had its effect. What is certain is that the Liberals and the Conservatives carried on an intensive campaign and the former have emerged triumphantly. The result means no change in the standing of parties in the Federal House of Commons. According, however, to the social and industrial complexion of the voters of South Huron it is a very definite warning that in some particulars the Federal Government appears to have lost popularity.

JAPAN AND MANCHUKUO

The Lytton Report on the Manchurian situation condemns the occupation of that state by Japan. It recommends a Sino-Japanese conference to agree upon the character of a future administrative regime in Manchuria, or Manchukuo as the state is now called. Moreover, it lays upon the League of Nations responsibility for carrying out the solution proposed. It invokes the League Covenant, the Briand-Kellogg Pact and the Nine Power Treaty, and it emphasizes the fundamental interests and responsibilities of foreign Powers. It does not regard the restoration of the status quo ante as a solution. It wants Manchuria's autonomy and internal security against external aggression. It agrees to recognition of Japan's interests in Manchuria but thinks these should be based on new treaty relations between China and Japan and it wants some machinery created for the peaceful settlement of any future disputes that may arise.

The Lytton Report, although just published, has led to a deadlock which must constitute a major problem confronting the League of Nations in the coming months. Japan is opposed to the Lytton findings. It regards them as "utterly worthless." It considers that the proposals put forward are not of a character to promote peace in the Orient. The situation developing is one which is tending towards a Japanese Monroe Doctrine in the Far East, a doctrine which was supported by the late Mr. Theodore Roosevelt as best calculated to promote peace in the Orient. Japan regards extension of her interests in Manchuria as a step towards this goal. There is a sound argument in the proposal. If there is a Monroe Doctrine affecting North and South America there is no reason why a similar political dispensation should not maintain in Asia.

Japan takes the standpoint that one of her main preoccupations is the preservation of peace in the Orient. In the past, where the Powers have interfered with the relationships of China and Japan, the results have not been happy. These two countries, Oriental in their outlook, are best situated by contiguity and their knowledge of each other to settle whatever difficulties may arise. For the time being such settlement may be hard because of the chaotic political conditions in China and the fact that the Chinese Government cannot speak for a united nation. That is a situation that will become clarified in the course of time. In the interim any interference by the League of Nations is more likely to disrupt that organization than to advance measures for the settlement of Oriental difficulties. It is certain that if the League adopts the Lytton Report Japan will resign from membership in the Geneva organization. The defection of one of the world's first class Powers would be a beginning of the end of the League.

A COMMON-SENSE PHILOSOPHER

The observance of the tercentenary of the birth of John Locke, the English philosopher, by the preaching of sermons morning, afternoon and evening in Westminster Abbey, indicates the value put upon this seventeenth century thinker in his own country. Locke's importance in philosophy, said Dr. Percy Dearmer, was that, with Descartes and Spinoza, he was the founder of modern thought. His work had a large place in shaping the eighteenth century and in bringing in the era of Kant and his contemporaries. His mission was to initiate the modern criticism of the foundation and limits of our knowledge. This contribution was given in his great work, "An Essay on Human Understanding," which appeared in 1690 and of which three editions were printed. By this classic Locke became the pioneer of the spirit of free and untrammelled scientific inquiry which is characteristic of today. Locke was also the apostle of religious toleration. Growing up in the first half of the sixteenth century when religious conflict between Royalist and Puritan was at its height, he learned to deplore the fanaticism and intolerance of his time. He stood for mutual respect among religions, and for the principle of religious liberty in the state. It was a day when diverse views as to the Atonement or the Lord's Supper made the nonconformist liable to imprisonment or worse. In his "Letters on Toleration" Locke showed the futility of persecution, which can only achieve outward conformity. Society, he said, should give its members freedom to believe and should not interfere with the expression of belief if it did not infringe upon the rights of others. This attitude is now pretty general, but the progress of the spirit of tolerance was slow. It was two centuries before Britain expunged from her statute books the penalties meted out to non-conformists in standard belief.

To this philosopher must be given the credit also of enunciating some principles of education. His theories have indeed a modern ring. Locke held that the imparting of information should be subordinated to the formation of character. In fact he maintained that the mere accumulation of facts was useless. The objective of learning was moral discipline and teachers should therefore be chosen for wisdom rather than for much learning. For the shifting of emphasis upon the child modern education is much indebted to Locke. Between his father and himself in his boyhood days there was an ideal relationship. In general his contention was that in all matters, including education and religion, common-sense should be applied. He was distinctly a common-sense philosopher. "Cautious, modest in speculation," to quote Dr. Dearmer, "he made a typical English contribution to the revived art of thinking."

MEDICAL SOCIALISM

State medical health services have reached a point of widest incidence in Soviet Russia, and yet health conditions there have not improved. On the contrary, the death rate has shown a somewhat alarming increase which indicates there is something wrong with the conditions under which state medicine operates in that country. The supporters of state medicine are chiefly drawn from Communists, Socialists, welfare workers and public health officials. Wherever tried it has meant new burdens of taxation. The proponents of state medicine in this province, laudable as their purpose is, have failed to make out a case. The extent to which Socialism has been introduced in government is one of the main contributory factors to the burden of taxation from which people everywhere are suffering. Medical Socialism would accentuate that burden, and what is more, the tendency would be towards medical services of the perfunctory order, or in other words, as in so many instances, those whose paymasters are the state would divorce personality from their efforts.

It is of interest to all the world of newspaperdom when an institution like The London Times changes its dress. The Times has dropped its Gothic masthead which has appeared since 1788 and hereafter is printing "The Times" in plain block Roman letters. In other words, it has reverted to the style used in 1785 when it first appeared as The Daily Universal Register. The type now used throughout the paper is a new Roman. Single column headlines continue and the front page remains devoted to classified advertisements. An innovation introduced on the front page is the abolition of the parallel lines across the top between which most newspapers print the date and number of the issue. The date is now appearing (on October 3 for the first time) in small type between the lion and unicorn crest on the masthead.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Wisdom is often nearer when we sleep than when we wake.—Wordsworth.

This morning we were on the point of writing something about the weather, which for the past month must have been as nearly ideal as the one or two pioneers still in the land of the living tell us it used to be in the days of long ago, when the door gently opened (apparently without any human agency), and the phantom face of Old Robert appeared in the aperture. In the eyes of the old man there was a look of either appeal or warning. Then we remembered that in days not so long gone by, after we had written something about the weather, the gods became angry and stormy weather succeeded pleasant weather, and we also remembered that after we had committed the unforgivable offence, Old Robert always came in and said, "I told you so." For the old boy was extremely sensitive in his later days to changes of temperature.

So we decided to let the weather slide in peace and write about something else. After we had made that decision without even a muttered word, the phantom face withdrew and the door closed as gently as it had opened. Instead of writing about the weather this morning, then, we shall write about the other, which may not be directly allied with the weather, but which seems to be affected to some extent by the vagaries of the weather. According to scientific authority, it is through the ether the radio operates. Therefore let us leave the weather in peace and talk about the radio. Well, then, during the week-end we heard one extremely attractive programme of music and one very interesting and significant speech come over the radio. We shall deal with the musical programme first, because there are occasions when it is justifiable to indulge in pleasure first and attend to business afterwards. When anything of either interest or value comes over the radio these days, that surely is such an unusual thing as to be worthy of "special mention."

Have any of our readers ever had the pleasure of listening to the music of a light opera which at one time was very popular, possibly only a trifle less popular than the music of Sullivan's light operas, the music of "La Mascotte," written, I believe, by a French composer? It was the music of "The Mascot," that came through the ether, played by a very competent orchestra and sung by a company endowed with sweet, true and sufficiently strong voices. In the opera there is a duet which in English is called "The Gobbie Song," and in the days of long ago we went night after night to the theatre chiefly to hear that song sung. That of course was an indication of low musical mentality, but we were one of a great company which on the streets of many cities was whistling charming airs from "The Mascot."

Grand opera is of course really grand and symphony orchestras may produce divine music, but man in the mass has not yet attained the ultimate point of divinity—and that may be why big opera companies, with brilliant stars of the musical firmament in the leading roles, and great symphony orchestras with world-renowned conductors directing them, are involved in a depression almost as deep as big business. We may be wrong in our diagnosis of the situation, but it does seem to us that the management of musical organizations should tear a leaf out of the book of the management of low-brow amusements and cater more to the tastes of the common people. Those were the thoughts which entered our mind as we listened to the popular, but surely not low, music of "The Mascot."

The speech which came through the ether was delivered by the leader of the Democratic Party, whose chances of being elected president of the United States are generally conceded to be very good. There was a significant declaration in that speech which would have been of considerable interest to our Liberal friends if they had been listening to it. As we already have pointed out, the Liberal leaders and their newspapers confess that they expect greater things from the presidential election than they do from the developments of the Imperial Conference. Indeed, we believe it would not be saying an extreme thing if we were to say that the Liberal leaders and newspapers appear to expect an economic millennium immediately a Democratic administration is installed at Washington. In his speech over the radio Mr. Roosevelt made the Democratic position clear on the tariff issue, and there is not the least doubt that for political reasons he was told he had better let the people know definitely where he stood. The presidential candidate said that a Democratic government would be careful to see that if there were any revision of the tariff schedules, ample protection would be given American industries against the competition of all foreign products. When the fact is considered that the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill could not have been passed in Congress without Democratic support, and the further fact considered that the provisions of the Hawley-Smoot bill were directed chiefly against Canadian products, the added fact is apparent that Canadian Liberals are steadily trying to delude the Canadian people when they say United States markets are more important to Canadian producers than the markets of the British Empire.

The Rhyming Optimist

CHILDLESS
 She never had a little child
 To lie upon her breast,
 To feel the soft, warm, little head
 To woo a babe to rest.
 She never heard a baby's hurra
 Or calmed a baby's fears,
 Or cured its sorrows with a kiss
 Or wiped away its tears.
 She never bore the weight of care
 That every mother knows;
 She never had a little child
 To love her with a love that grows.
 And so, for every little child
 She passed upon the street
 She felt a quickening of love
 Through all her being beat.
 She dreamed of all the happiness
 She never had possessed,
 And every little child on earth
 Was cherished in her breast.

American Mining Theme of New Book by Victoria Author

By J. E. M. B.

Authors of books on mining usually treat the matter in such a technical and academic way that the subject has no interest to anyone outside the profession. Dedicated to "the most distinguished of American mining engineers," Herbert Hoover, "A History of American Mining," by Dr. T. A. Rickard, of Victoria, internationally-known mining engineer and editor of mining journals and treatises on both sides of the Atlantic, does not suffer from this fault. Written in a style that is crisp, vivid, methodical, and informative, it fills the double role of a scientific work and a popular narrative treating with lucid and dramatic human interest. Therefore it is likely to be in very much greater demand than the majority of such publications. Sudden flashes of philosophy, a continuous sub-current of humor, touch up dry facts and enliven the pages of what might easily have remained a cold and impersonal scientific treatise. Rickard, it is worth noting, volunteered to forego his royalty on each of the two books which he wrote for the American Institute of Mining Engineers to whom Harvey Mudd, of Los Angeles, gave $100,000, part of the money to be spent in the publication of four books, a set of which is to be given to each of the 1,200 younger members of an institute which boasts a total membership of 8,000. Mr. Mudd made this gift of the institute in memory of his father, Seeley Mudd, a distinguished mining engineer. Reduction in Price Of Milk Aggravates Producers' Problem

Surplus Supply Cause of Four-Cent Cut Per Gallon by Dealers—Competition Also Is Important Factor in Instability

THE price of milk paid by the dealers to the producers in the Greater Victoria area has been cut ten cents a pound on butterfat content, it was learned yesterday. This is equal to an average cut of four cents a gallon on the wholesale price, and the reduction has been passed on by the dealers to the consumers, who now get eight quarts of milk with 5 per cent butterfat content for one dollar, and nine quarts of milk with 4 per cent butterfat content for the same price.

Dealers explained yesterday that the cause of the cut was due to the surplus supply, which they declared had been existent since last January. With no prospect of the surplus diminishing, the dealers said they were forced to tighten up the situation.

PRICE IN SPRING
The reduction comes at a time when the price of milk generally stiffens and because of this may have a serious effect on the price of milk next spring.

The whole situation is complicated, dealers said, by the fact that there are more than 200 different distributing centres in the Greater Victoria area. The situation could be strengthened, however, if the producers could come to some amicable agreement among themselves in regard to the quota of milk required by the Greater Victoria area. With the supply governed, there would be more stability in price, tightening up of the margin of waste and a general improvement in the situation all round.

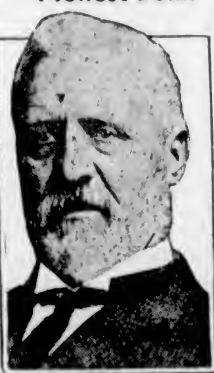

According to provincial officials, the milk situation in Greater Victoria has offered unusual difficulties over a long term of years. The possibility of disposing of much of the product in a manufactured form has been relatively small, while a surplus of fluid milk of high butterfat content has been a prevailing condition for recent years. It is stated. Upwards of 200 agencies are selling milk in the Greater Victoria area, many doing a small family business unaffected by conditions in the trade as a whole.

NIGHT CLASSES ARE SUGGESTED

Saanich School Board Inspector Outlines Plan for Evening Sessions

Possibility of holding night school classes in Saanich was suggested by Inspector J. M. Patterson, at a municipal school board meeting held last evening.

Inspector Patterson explained that several inquiries regarding the holding of classes had been made, and it was planned to send out questionnaires from high schools to obtain an idea of the response that could be expected.

In outlining the plan, Mr. Patterson made clear the fact that the schools would be self-supporting and would incur no added cost to the board. The questionnaires would not place those who signed them under any obligation, but would merely serve to indicate what the response would be.

It was proposed, he said, to include in the curriculum matriculation completion courses, commercial subjects, dressmaking and millinery, public speaking and agricultural biology.

Just Roamin' Around

By T.W. ROVERS

Life has been likened to a journey, to a winding trail, to a school, and to so many other things, including a stage, whereon we all must play our parts, and we would today think of life as a chain.

There are chains and chains, gold chains, silver chains and chains of base metal and perhaps more lasting. We once saw a chain in an exhibit of glassware, easily broken, too fragile for practical purposes.

Chains have many uses. There are chains that bind one to some unmovable base; chains that hamper and thwart us; chains that chafe and irritate us; but, thank goodness, there are chains that are beautiful, chaste and pleasant to behold, and very valuable.

Chains are made up of links. The number of links vary with the length and form of the chain. Each link in it is an integral part of the whole, and has its own importance and its own place, not easily changed, in the chain. The strength of the whole chain depends on the strength of the weakest link. The links are linked together. The links are not always of the same pattern, nor are they of the same interest, nor do they all have the same association in the long, short, or medium chain. Life is a chain.

FORGING LINKS

We all spend our lives forging links, of association, of remembrance, of ideals, of hopes, of deeds, of yes, and of misdeeds. That is part

Loss of Pioneer Is Mourned

ALFRED E. WESCOTT
who died in Brandon last Sunday at the age of seventy-seven years. He was born in Nova Scotia in 1855, and came to this city at the age of twenty. The remains will arrive here Thursday, and the funeral service will be held on Saturday, with Rev. M. Richardson officiating. Interment will be in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Of our work, duty and pleasure here. Once in a while we break a link, or deliberately take a link off the string of time and replace it or discard it and do not replace it, according to circumstances.

Every place we have visited, lived in, and said good-bye to, is a link that we must count in the long run of our chain of life.

Every human being we have met, associated with, chummed with, loved or hated, kept as a friend or discarded, bidden farewell to, met again, or parted with forever, is a link that, whether we like it or not, forms part of our long or short, interesting or tedious chain of life. It's our job in life to forge as fine a chain as we can, as we will rather, for as in the alchemy of our own life we are the chemists, in the smelting of life we may hammer out the best of chains or forge one for ourselves that is heavy and a burden.

BREAKING LINKS

It is a grand old world! There is happiness galore! But, one of the saddest of all things is the taking leave of links of the past, links that would bind and do bind us very strongly to old associations and that bring their quota of heartaches, when we do, as we all must, break a link here and there: when the building of the whole chain demands a parting of the ways on the long journey up and down hill on the Great Road.

We spent last Sunday out by the sea. We sat on the rocks in the blazing sunshine of a glorious day. We rowed around and roamed around, and we saw one of the most wonderful sunsets. We were saying good-bye to a little bay, to its charming associations. We thought of chains and links, and other things. Tomorrow we will write on some of the other things.

Reminds Lawyers Of Sacred Oaths

Frank William Elliott was admitted a member of the British Columbia Bar as a barrister by Chief Justice Morrison in the Supreme Court here on Monday, prior to the opening of the Fall Assizes. Mr. Elliott was introduced by W. C. Mowbray, K.C.

After the administration of the oath and the signing of the register, the Chief Justice remarked: "I always impress upon gentlemen called to the Bar in this province the importance of the oath they have taken. The oath is not an empty formula and we are so apt to forget these solemn oaths that are taken so frequently. I suggest that you frame it so that you will have it before you always. I hope you will have a long and honorable career."

INSTALL OFFICERS AT FIRST UNITED

New Executive Members of Church Young People's Society Take Over Duties

Twenty-eight members of the recently elected executive of the Young People's Society of First United Church were installed in office on Monday evening at an impressive ceremony, when a large group of members and representatives of the various boards of the church met in the auditorium of the church. Rev. Bruce Gray installed the officers, assisted by Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, George Gordon, Mr. McKillop, Miss Ella Cameron and R. G. Howell.

The service was preceded by a short organ recital by John I. Smith, which included "Festival March," "The Angelus" (C. J. Gray), "Pastorale" (Widor) and a group of negro folk songs.

PRIZES PRESENTED

Later the meeting adjourned to the Sunday school hall, where prizes won in the club tennis tournament were presented as follows: Men's doubles, won by Wilmet Brown-Cave and William Erith, presented by Gordon Robson; ladies' doubles, won by Winnie Robb and Margaret Bell, presented by Donald Fraser; men's singles, won by Wilmet Brown-Cave, presented by F. C. Patterson; ladies' singles, won by Lillian Robinson, presented by Mrs. M. L. McLennan; mixed doubles, won by Miss F. Schroeder and Wilmet Brown-Cave, presented by G. H. Stevens.

Violin solos by Miss Mary Warren and saxophone solos by Leslie Swainson, with Miss K. Irvine and "Pat" Campbell as accompanists, were much enjoyed.

MEETING CANCELLED

Alex Main, president of the society, announced that the evening meeting has been cancelled next Monday, owing to the Thanksgiving holiday, and that there will be a hike instead. About fifty members signified their intention to attend and will leave the church at 10 a.m. for a hike up Mount Finlayson. Refreshments were served by the social committee, headed by Helen Marsh and Charlotte Crawford, after which W. Gordon Robson and George Gordon led the group in a camp fire sing-song.

• When Poisons Spread From Here •

Danger! When intestines fail to function regularly, watch out for headaches, bad breath, bad skin, colds, etc.

• Look Out! •

Half-sick as a result of constipation! That's the price you pay for not keeping intestines active and clean.

• Straighten Yourself Out With Yeast •

What you need! Fleischmann's Yeast—3 cakes a day—in the simple way doctors recommend to keep fit.

Subject to BAD BREATH...HEADACHES... frequent COLDS?

LOOK at the man in the picture above, in the center. He has a good job, a lovely wife, a fine home. Every reason for happiness. Every incentive to success.

Yet he's not happy. Not successful. Why?

Only through the X-ray can we actually see the condition known as constipation.

But how unmistakably it shows itself... in how we feel!

It takes away appetite, "pep." It upsets digestion... makes the tongue coated, the breath bad. We find ourselves increasingly subject to headaches, colds.

Now, realizing what's wrong, many of us seek a short cut out of our trouble. We turn to cathartics. To harsh laxatives. To violent, dangerous pills.

But these are temporary measures. Doctors most emphatically warn us against them. And in their place they recommend a simple fresh food that acts naturally and easily, restoring our bodily functions to normal once again. This food is fresh yeast... ordinary Fleischmann's Yeast. Eaten regularly, it actually "tones" and strengthens the intestines, softens accumulated waste matter... cleanses and stimulates the very region of the body where constipation gets in its bad work.

And, as yeast acts to clear the body of poisons, headaches disappear. Your tongue clears, your breath becomes sweet and pure. You are far less susceptible to sore throats and colds.

If you really want overflowing health, a clear skin and a trouble-free system, try Fleischmann's Yeast! Eat it just plain or dissolved in a third of a glass of water—3 cakes a day—before meals, or between meals and when you go to bed.

You can buy it at grocers', restaurants, drug stores and soda fountains. It's rich in health-giving vitamins B, G and D. IMPORTANT—Fleischmann's Yeast for health comes only in the foil-wrapped cake with the yellow label. It is yeast in its fresh, effective form—the kind famous doctors recommend. Ask for it by name!

High Commendation for Regional Council Here

Reports of Regina Conference Given by Mrs. W. G. Wilson and Mrs. P. B. Scurrell at Women's Canadian Club Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, held at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon, the president, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, warmly commended Mrs. P. B. Scurrell for the able way in which she had presented the case of the regional council of British Columbia at the recent annual meeting of the Association of Canadian Clubs at Regina. The achievement of the British Columbia regional council in furnishing speakers to small clubs in remote parts of the province, and providing free exhibitions of national park and wild-life films to children in out-of-the-way places, so won the approval of the association that it adopted a resolution commending the formation of similar regional councils in other provinces, where desired.

At yesterday's meeting Mrs. Scurrell, chairman of the British Columbia regional council, gave a full and interesting report of the discussions which took place on this matter at the Regina conference. One of the very gratifying evidences of the appreciation in British Columbia of the regional council's functions was furnished just a few days ago, when, in information from Vernon that a Women's Canadian Club, with a membership of eighty, had just been formed there as the direct result of their confidence that through the council they would be assured of speakers during the year.

Financed by donations amounting to $700 from the four large clubs of the province, and by affiliation fees amounting to $80.25, the regional council of British Columbia had sent out thirteen speakers at a cost of $730.30, the cost of administration to the council being only $133.67. Mrs. Scurrell, chairman; P. B. Scurrell, first vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Ross, second vice-president, and W. T. Strath, secretary.

EXPLAINS FINANCES
In her report of the Regina conference of the Association of Canadian Clubs, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, who also represented the Nanaimo Council at that meeting, recorded the appreciation of the regional council's formation in its resolution approving the formation of regional councils recommended that twenty-five cents per member (half of the membership fee) within the National Association be devoted to the financing of these councils. In this connection she noted that the Victoria club hitherto had not been fully affiliated with the National, which moved Mrs. H. P. Hodges to propose a resolution to the effect that the necessary steps be taken for affiliation, necessitating the payment to the National of fifty cents per club member. This was adopted.

In referring to this, Mrs. Wilson noted that the annual fee of $1 in the Victoria club was lower than other club rates. She had maintained, in discussing the matter with other delegates at the Regina conference, that a membership of 1,000 at $1 was better than half the membership at $2.

In paying her tribute to Mrs. Scurrell for the able way in which she had presented her report at Regina, Mrs. Wilson read a copy of a resolution adopted by the Women's Canadian Club in Victoria in which they congratulated Mrs. Scurrell "upon the report which she made as chairman of the regional council to the conference of the Association of Canadian Clubs, and thanked her for the very able way in which she had presented the case of the regional council of British Columbia at the recent annual meeting of the Association of Canadian Clubs at Regina."

CONSERVATIVES ELECT OFFICERS

W. J. Alder New President of Oak Bay Association of Confidence

W. J. Alder, for many years identified with the Conservative party in this city, was elected president of the Oak Bay Conservative Association at its annual meeting, held last night.

Tribute was paid to Major Hugh Allan, retiring president, for his untiring efforts in the cause of the association and party during the past twelve months.

Other officers elected were: G. F. Salmon, secretary, who has held the post for several years; R. D. Harvey, Captain W. E. Tapley, Gordon Cameron and E. Parr, delegates to the central executive; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Shrapnell, Mrs. Tapley, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Sinclair, Mrs. Alder, Percy Fletcher and Mr. Flemming, members of the ward executive.

URGES LOYALTY
R. A. Woolton, president of the Victoria Conservative Association, gave a brief address at the close of the meeting, urging the members to maintain their loyalty toward the party and its leader, Premier S. F. Toomey. In such times as these, he said, it was only by showing signs of flagging interest. But it was in such times that the party needed the support of every loyal Conservative.

The Government was passing through a critical period and should not be blamed for economic conditions over which it had no control.

Following Mr. Woolton's address, a hearty vote of confidence was passed in Premier Toomey.

VOLUNTEER WORKERS TO IMPROVE GROUNDS OF SAANICH SCHOOL

Volunteer workers of Mount View High School Parent-Teacher Association will hold a working bee at the school on Thanksgiving Day, when they will do any ground work the Saanich board requires.

Trustees of the board, at a meeting last night, decided that the work should consist of clearing brush on the side of Carey Road, adjoining the football field.

The appreciation of the workers' action was voiced by the trustees, who stated it was understood that approximately 150 men would offer their services.

The works committee of the board was instructed to make arrangements for providing the men with municipal equipment for the work.

Women's Canadian Club In Healthy Condition

Membership of 1,073 and Sound Financial Status Reported at Thirteenth Annual Meeting—Election of Officers Held

A membership of 1,073 in good standing was reported by the secretary, Mrs. D. B. McConnan, in her comprehensive survey of the Women's Canadian Club activities given at the thirteenth annual meeting of the society held yesterday at the Empress ballroom.

Further statistics included in the same report and subsequently contributed by Mrs. G. D. Christie, acting treasurer, indicated a very healthy condition in all departments of the organization. Eighteen lecture meetings took place during the year, with a roster of distinguished speakers, and various social occasions were included in the club calendar, some arranged with the object of raising funds for the club bursaries and other requirements, some being of more purely social character. The latter was the reception last month in honor of Her Excellency the Countess of Beasborough.

The treasurer's statement, printed copies of which were handed to each member attending the meeting, showed receipts for the year totaling $1,920.99, the chief items in which were membership fees totalling $1,134 and admission fees amounting to $554.70. Expenditures included rental of the Empress ballroom for meetings, expenses of delegates attending the Association of Canadian Clubs convention, affiliation fees in the association, and various expenses incidental to correspondence and secretarial requirements and speakers' expenses.

In her report, the secretary included special thanks to the soloists and accompanists who had helped the club during the year, and the Men's Canadian Club for the courtesy extended members to hear all addresses given before the members of their club.

During the counting of the ballots yesterday, Miss Nora Jones, controller, accompanied very artistically by Miss Maquinn Daniels, delighted the audience with three charmingly sung numbers, "Carpet" (Sanderson), "The Sleigh" (Sanderson), and "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal" (Mrs. G. G. Spofford) was the re-

Needy Aided By Friendly Help in City

The president, Mrs. Cullum, presided at a well-attended meeting of the Friendly Help Association held yesterday. There were twenty-four members present, and Alderman Williams and Alderman Adam represented the City Council. Four new members were welcomed, Mrs. Kirkendale, Mrs. Wilkinson, Mrs. Rowland and Mrs. Hallam.

A report of the public meeting September 22, regarding further work for the unemployed, was read. A good representation of the men and women's organizations of the city was present and all showed great interest in the idea. A small committee was formed to organize and plan the campaign with James Parfitt as chairman.

SEWING CIRCLE
A report was read regarding the Friendly Help Sewing Circle, which has grown rapidly and is proving very helpful. In connection with this association would appreciate donations of coat linings, tapes, elastic and thread.

One hundred and fourteen cases received assistance during September, representing 284 persons. There were nineteen new applicants during the month; 260 groceries, orders and 219 meat orders were issued, forty-eight families received fuel and seventy-six families were given milk, ninety-five families got clothing, forty-two men and twelve single women were given clothing, forty-five families received provisions, and twelve families received sundry articles such as beds, springs, bedding, dishes, irons, sewing machine, etc., from the rooms.

The association appreciates very much the response to appeals in the press for clothing, furniture, etc., and would be most grateful for further donations of vegetables, fruit provisions, etc., delivered to the rooms at the Market Building (upstairs). The committee is anxious to receive donations of fresh vegetables of all kinds and fresh fruit such as apples, pears, etc.

Rally in Stock Prices Is Brief At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP).—Advances had their turn in the stock market today, but the rally was feebly pushed and closing prices were irregular.

Trading was just as listless as for almost a fortnight back, although turnover of 1,220,710 shares represented some improvement over Monday.

At one time leading equities moved up one to two points, chiefly on the good showing made by cotton and firmness of wheat. But the former composite closed unchanged, weather news, failed to fulfill its early promise, losing most of its rise, and stocks also slid off during the last hour.

Net changes were almost entirely fractional, so evenly distributed that the Standard Statistics-Associated Press composite closed unchanged. Farm implement issues were fairly firm with grain markets. Rails gave a more encouraging performance than yesterday, but eventually shuffled downward, leaving mixed and minor net changes for Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific and others.

General Motors and Chrysler, especially the latter, figured prominently in the late dealings, both closing fractionally off. U. S. Steel, Allied Chemical, National Biscuit, American Telephone, Coca-Cola and Sears Roebuck showed fractional net gains, offsetting moderate declines by DuPont, Woolworth, American Tobacco "B" and a few other favorites. United Aircraft was relatively active, finishing unchanged.

The bond market floundered in a fog of uncertainties and price changes generally were unimportant. It was another dull session, although trading was slightly more active than that of yesterday. Sales totaled $6,648,000, par value, and the average for sixty corporate bonds lost one-tenth of a point.

Speculative railroad loans showed rallying tendencies at times. Issues of the Nickel Plate Company received portions of their recent high. Best quality utilities and industrial bonds were fairly firm or unchanged. Oils were indifferent and amusement company loans soft.

Australian Commonwealth 4 1/2's and 5's reacted a point or more, lost Queensland 4 1/2's, gained 7 1/2 points for a new high with Italian 7's made a new year's high with a fractional gain.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4 (CP).—Wheat idled through another dull session on the grain market here today and for the fourth successive day prices closed unchanged. Reports of moderate export sales provided the only feature and values moved within a narrow range.

October closed at 40 1/4; November, 50 3/4; December, 51 1/2, and May, 56 3/4.

Little different from yesterday, trading was dull and practically without feature throughout. Only a half-cent spread appeared, the high and low points of the day and at most times quotations were stationary.

More than 500,000 bushels of wheat were reported sold for export, part of this having been worked late on Monday. This imparted a steady effect on the market and tempted to lower prices. Small quantities of Russian wheat were reported sold to England at prices higher than those asked for Canadian wheat.

The cash grain division, too, was quiet. Little demand was in evidence; offerings were light and volume of business was small. Spreads generally were unchanged. Coarse grains were dull, values moving narrowly.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4 (CP).—Spectacular activity featured today's session on the Vancouver Stock Exchange. A total of 64,400 shares of Georgia River crossed the board, turning the day. Opening at 3 7/8, the issue reached a peak of 4 1/8 in late trading, closing at its opening price, a net gain of 3/4.

Other issues to show fair activity, however, were unchanged. 4 and 4, respectively. Reno, also fairly active, advanced 1/8 to 5 1/8.

Big Missouri at 14, and Grandview at 4 1/2 and 1/2, respectively.

Leading Stocks at Eastern Exchanges Show Firmer Trend

MONTREAL, Oct. 4 (CP).—Increased demand for earnings and firmness on the market at New York failed to bring improvement to the Montreal Stock Exchange today. Volume was somewhat heavier but the undertone was one of weakness.

Brazilian Traction did not respond in a very enthusiastic manner to the termination of the rebellion in Brazil and closed unchanged at 11.

Issues usually moderately active such as Canadian Pacific and International Nickel were quiet today. Canadian Pacific, gross earnings for the month of September showed an increase, was one of the few issues to show higher, gaining 1/4 at 18 1/2. International Nickel was unchanged at 10 1/4.

Point losses were suffered by Consolidated Smelters at 80, Royal Bank at 167 and Sherwin-Williams at 101 1/4. Power Corporation and Shawinigan were each 5/8 lower at 12 1/8 and 16 7/8.

Making its first appearance in month, Western Grocers advanced 3/8 to 2 1/

How IT STARTED

THAT WORD "MACARONI" may be a favorite dish of the Italian populace. But it is said to assume that the most extreme macaroni fan would not think of this food of slender tubes, made from a flour paste as associated with something "bleased" or its name as another name for happiness. Yet that is how it started. The Italian "maccheroni" is derived from the Greek where it meant "bleased," "happiness," and later was applied to a funeral feast. It is inferred that this name was given it from the circumstances that the dish was eaten at such feasts in honor of the dead.

Incidentally, "macaroni" was used in the eighteenth century to describe a class of traveled young men affecting ways in the sense of "fop," a sense derived probably from the fact that macaroni was looked upon as a luxury. Also, during the American Revolution, a body of troops from Maryland who wore a showy uniform were so-called.

Edible bird nests are being gathered in Java and the Philippines for export to China.

ASK NOTICE OF ARMISTICE DAY

Duncan Veterans Desire Instruction of School Pupils on Its Significance

DUNCAN, Oct. 4.—At the monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion, Cowichan Branch, held in the club-rooms, Duncan, on Monday, the following resolution, proposed by J. Low, of Chemainus, was passed:

"In view of the apparent ignorance which is growing up amongst children regarding the reason for the observance of Remembrance (Armistice) Day, November 11, as a holiday, be it resolved that the school boards be requested to authorize that some definite instruction concerning this day be given in the day schools each year on November 10, at a time most convenient to the teaching staff, and whenever possible such instruction be given by an ex-service man."

The problem of unemployed young men under twenty-four years of age was brought up by a resolution from Kamloops Branch in which a scheme was outlined whereby young men could be absorbed in a three-year agreement in the Peace River District, building a good truck road and also receiving a certain amount of technical training. Captain Groves expressed an opinion that the idea was good but there was no machinery in existence to make the venture a success. By encouraging the lads to join the militia for special service, say of two years not in a military sense, but in order that they can be well fed, well looked after, employed on useful schemes to provide work, and under a certain amount of discipline, it would be good for the lads and good for everybody. The machinery to operate this suggestion was actually in existence and could be made to operate successfully.

According to recent press reports, the new wing of Esplanade Mental Hospital, built specially for ex-service men patients and officially opened two years ago, has not yet been occupied. The provincial executive of the Legion will be asked to institute an inquiry and report back to all branches in British Columbia for information.

The entertainment committee reported that arrangements were well in hand for a full evening's entertainment. It was co-operating with the Capitol Theatre to put on a programme of vaudeville turns, an army skit and a variety film. This would take place early in November.

Other general business included acceptance of applications for new member, votes of thanks to the sports and dance committees, and expressions of sympathy to David Ford and Col. L. Eardley Wilmut in their sickness.

RESOLUTION FROM EDMONTON MEETS FAVOR AT NANAIMO

NANAIMO, Oct. 4.—At the regular meeting of the local council last evening the following resolution from Edmonton City Council was endorsed:

"Resolved that we urge upon the Federal Government to assist in refloating our debt-laden institutions by the issuance of Dominion currency at cost against the bonds of provincial and municipal governments, or other practical means, to such amounts as will carry the cost of unemployment relief and make it possible to carry on productive work or necessary improvements."

The report of the Mayor on the conference held last week with the Provincial Council, and the receipt and filed on motion of Ald. Kerr, after several aldermen had given their views on the matter of relief and asked questions of the Mayor pertaining to it.

By-law No. 516, water rate regulation amendment by-law, was reconsidered and finally adopted.

He was on his way home with his new car, which was absorbing all his attention, when it struck him that he had forgotten something. Twice he stopped, counted his parcels, and searched his pocket-book, but finally decided he had everything with him.

When he reached home his daughter ran out, stopped with a surprised look on her face, and cried: "Why, father, where's mother?"

DISCUSS WORK OF CLEARING RIVER

Wellington Taxpayers and Nanaimo Board of Trade Meet to Plan Campaign

NANAIMO, Oct. 4.—At Pleasant Valley Hall last evening, the Wellington Taxpayers' Association discussed the possible removal of an obstruction at the outlet of Brennan's Lake and the necessary clearing out of the Millstone River. Representatives of the Nanaimo Board of Trade were present.

President W. W. Mitchell, of the Board of Trade, addressed the meeting, and was supported by William Kidd, representing the agricultural committee of that body. Both assured the meeting that the Nanaimo Board of Trade would do anything within its power to assist the association to attain its object, outlining a suggested plan of campaign, which will probably be followed out in the near future.

Arthur Jordan, of the Nanaimo Ratepayers' Association, addressed the meeting and covered a wide range. The part of his speech dealing with social service and the Nanaimo Hospital's possible usefulness as applied to farmers was particularly instructive and interesting to those present.

What Today Means to YOU

by MARY BLAKE

"LIBRA"

If October 5 is your birthday, the best hours for you are on this date from 1:15 p.m. to 3 p.m., from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., and from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger hours are from 9:30 to 11:30 in the morning and again from 7:30 to 8:30 in the evening.

There seem to be no influences that would make this other than an ordinary day. The day's routine should go along smoothly, and any plans in the making should unfold themselves logically and naturally. Being a quiet period, it should prove a day particularly adaptable to thought and meditation. Any plans or enterprises inaugurated on this day should get off to an auspicious start.

Children born on October 5 are inclined to this date of temper. They require much understanding from their parents. They are inclined to be fretful. They do not fit well into groups but have a tendency to go and play by themselves. This they should outgrow, and parents can do much to teach them the necessity of adaptability to surroundings. These children have alert and methodical minds.

People born on October 5 are inclined to take life too seriously. They are inclined to magnify their troubles, make mountains out of ant-hills. At the same time they do not seem to realize that others are having difficulties of their own to iron out. Life may not be just a

He is shown with some of the treasures which are to be shown this month at the Buddhist Temple in London, during the first exhibition of Buddhist art ever held in the British Isles.
